FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Best Business Women Awards 2021 Finalists announced.

The Best Business Women Awards have announced their finalists for 2021 and this is an amazing line up of incredible business women from across the globe.

Pushing through the pandemic, these women continued to drive their businesses forwards. The judges were impressed of the creativity, tenacity and great business acumen demonstrated in the finalists selected . The Best Business Women Awards are designed to recognise the achievement of those women across a wide range industries.

Local businesswoman Hanne Grice from Hanne Grice Pet Training & Behaviour has been shortlisted as a finalist in the Best Business Women Awards 2021 for Animal Services, and Customer Service. Hanne Grice is a Clinical Animal Behaviourist and Trainer, published author and University lecturer based in Tring; Hanne has been helping problem pets for over 15 years.

Debbie Gilbert, organiser of The Best Business Women Awards said ‘The 7th year of these prestigious awards has proved to be the most challenging for business owners worldwide. The entries were judged by a panel of business experts who had a tough job reading hundreds of entries. To be a finalist in this competition is a major achievement and a mark of quality. All our finalists either win a Silver or Gold Award. The businesswomen selected have been chosen for their business acumen, determination, creativity, and tenacity. All our finalists are all shining examples of being successful entrepreneurs who have proved their success to our judges.’

Hanne Grice said “I am thrilled to have been selected as a Finalist. This has been a particularly challenging year with the pandemic puppy boom and significant rise in problem behaviours overall. To be recognised for service excellence in general, as well as in the field of animal services is simply awesome.”

The Gala Final will be held at the Hilton Wembley on 15th October where the Gold Winners of each category will be announced.
